Rumor: a currently circulating story or report of uncertain or doubtful truth.

We all hear rumors. Why do we believe them? Why do we not get the truth "from the horse's mouth" so to speak before we spread these rumors? Why do we repeat rumors at all?

This past year there were lots of rumors about our Rally and the facility. It had only bunk beds; there were no coffee pots; You had to buy tickets to eat at the Center because the nearest other place was 20 miles away; purchase of meals is required if you stay at the Center; Day passes couldn't register online; it's too far; and so on and so on.

All of these are false! Just to clarify the above:

Rooms have either 2 full beds or one full bed and a twin; They take the coffee pots out of the rooms when kids are there, but they are there for adults; Toccoa has several restaurants in town, which is 6 miles away; You can register and stay at hotel onsite without meals; You can register for a day pass online; Toccoa is 50 miles east of Hiawassee; 30 miles from Dillard; and in the foothills of the mountains. It wasn't too far to go to those places for previous rallies.

At this time we are not certain if we are returning to Toccoa. The date will probably be the last weekend in October. We are looking, and any help you can give us is welcome.

If we return to Toccoa, we will negotiate a lower room rate (by the room, not person) and a simplified registration process separate from the hotel and meals.

We hope you will not listen to rumors, and if you hear them please call or email and check them out. Tell others to discount rumors and check them out!

We need your support in order to continue the Rallies. We are doing this for the members. As requested by the members, we did the usual talent show, costume contest, mascots, scrapbooks, etc. as well as lots of seminars, and a concert. Check out the facts. Learn what is to be expected at the rally. Please don't depend on rumors!

Thank you, Larry and Pamela Clemmer

Wing Ding and Our Expectations

Plans are underway for Wing Ding 41 and the Georgia Rally 2019. Did you attend this year? Are you planning on attending next year? What are the benefits of attending such a rally? These are thoughts and questions that run through my mind as I plan our personal outings for the upcoming year. Seems everyone has an opinion on Facebook, most of it negative. I read those and wonder what exactly the writer thought they would gain from attending a rally. Sometimes our expectations are so unrealistic, that it sets us up for failure even before we tightened down our helmet.

Expectation is defined in the dictionary as a strong belief that something will happen or be the case in the future (thanks to Google on my android). If you think or believe that you will be bored, or there is nothing to gain by attending a rally, or another chapter event then, you will gain nothing. If you turn those thoughts into something positive, such as, we will meet up with old friends and meet some new ones, then, most likely, you will do just that.

It is important to remember that your fun and enjoyment has nothing to do with the venue. It must come from within you. You determine if you have fun, can laugh, and even meet new people. If you don't like something, share your positive ideas so that things can move a different way. Volunteer to be on an activity committee within your chapter. If you don't have one, create one. Sitting back and talking down events is just a lazy way to express yourself. It's time to put yourself back into GWRRA and not let others determine your fun.
